TRICKSTER RETURNING TO

CREMONA SCHOOL

Trickster will be returning to our school in December this year. The week of December 15th - 19th will be our artist in residency week with Trickster. The week will be filled with drama exploration and the exploration of ideas around gift giving in a variety of ways that tie into curriculum and will culminate in two presentations on Friday December 19th at 1:30 and 7:00p.m.

Trickster is a group of people who come into a school for a week and work with all students through drama activities. The groups start with an idea and through discussions, explorations with students and a designated prop, each class creates their own dramatic vignette to perform. The week ends with the performance of the creations on a stage with lighting and sound effects. Trickster is for all students K-12. We will be looking for volunteers to help with pulling together costuming for each class presentation and with the construction of some props. If you are interested in assisting with this please contact the school. See you at one of our performance celebrations on December 19th.
